

Grizzlies Alumni in Professional Baseball

The Coastal Plain League features the best baseball action summer has to offer. With College players from all over the country, the Coastal Plain League strives to provide each player with the preparation for what it takes to be a professional. Through the use of wooden bats (like those used in professional baseball) as opposed to aluminum, college players are able to adjust their game accordingly, to hitting with or playing against what will be used at the next level. Coastal Plain League games, as well as the CPL All-Star Game and Championship Tournament provide a great opportunity for Major League Baseball scouts to evaluate players in the Coastal Plain League.

Teams in the Coastal Plain League play in former minor league ballparks, including two of the top-three summer collegiate ballparks in the nation voted upon by Baseball America, making for an even more authentic professional touch. With a large fan base in every community, players in the Coastal Plain League quickly get to experience the atmosphere that will come with being a professional player.

Now heading into its twelfth season, the Coastal Plain League has become the premier league, helping to aid players from all over the country in making their dreams realized by becoming professionals. Below is a list of Grizzlies alumni that have gone on to become professional players:

Player	Position	Team	League	Organization	Grizzlies
Derek Barrows	3B	Road Warriors	Atlantic	Independent	2002
Erich Clonlinger	C	Augusta	South Atlantic	Boston	2004
Brad Correll	OF	Greensboro	South Atlantic	Marlins	2002
Quentin Davis	OF	Myrtle Beach	Carolina	Braves	2004
Vince Davis	LHP	Missoula	Pioneer	Arizona	2003
Scott Drucker	RHP	Stockton	California	Athletics	2002
Chris Gaskin	1B	New Haven	CanAm	Independent	2003, 2004
Michael Grasso	2B	Bangor	Northeast	Independent	2004
Adam Godwin	OF	Inland Empire	California	Dodgers	2004
Jay Heafner	SS	Spokane	Northwest	Rangers	2004, 2005
Jonathan Hovis	RHP	Charleston	South Atlantic	Yankees	2004, 2005
Josh LeBlanc	2B	Rancho Cucamonga	California	Angels	2003
Chris Mason	RHP	Montgomery	Southern	Devil Rays	2005
Jaymie Russ	RHP	Carolina	Southern	Marlins	2002
Mark Schleicher	3B	Vero Beach	Florida State	Devil Rays	2003
Brandon Williams	RHP	Williamsport	NY-Penn	Pirates	2005

